HONEYWELL ANNOUNCES NEW CANADIAN DISTRIBUTOR FOR INSTRUMENTATION PRODUCTS

CALGARY, Alberta, Oct. 21, 2008 – Honeywell (NYSE:HON) today announced the appointment of Tundra Boiler and Instrumentation Ltd. as a distributor of Honeywell’s field instrumentation products, including Honeywell Enraf solutions, for Alberta, Saskatchewan and North Eastern British Columbia in Canada.

Based in Calgary, Tundra is a leading provider of process control and instrumentation products and services. The company offers temperature and pressure regulators, pneumatic and electric control valves, sanitary valves, and flow meters. Additionally, Tundra provides level switches and transmitters, pressure washers, rupture discs, pressure relief valves, flame and detonation arresters, blanket gas regulators, and gas, heat and flame detectors.

“Tundra Boiler and Instrumentation is a great fit with Honeywell because of its deep industry expertise and ability to deliver exceptional value through complete solutions for specific applications,” said Umesh Patel, Americas sales director for Honeywell Process Solutions’ Field Solutions business. “In addition to its wide product portfolio, Tundra also has a strong customer-focused culture and a reputation for meeting commitments, which speaks to Honeywell’s core values.”

Customers can contact Tundra Boiler and Instrumentation by phone in Calgary at 403-255-5552 or in Edmonton at 780-482-3444 or visit www.tundrasolutions.ca.
